HOTEL

Typically boutique hotels are furnished in themed, stylish and or aspirational manner. Boutique hotels are often individual and focused on the offering the services in a comfortable,intimate and welcoming setting. So they are very unlikely to be found amongst the homogeneity of large hotels have on-site dining facilities,and majority offer bar and lounges that may also be open to the general public. Botique hotels have typically been unique properties operated by individuals or companies with a small collection. However, they successes have prompted multi-national hotel companies to two establish their own brands in order to capture a market share.

BEDROOM

The bedroom is that the part of the house, Where we go to recharge and rest after a Hard Day's Work and the daily stress to do So,the must be similar to our personality, to make us feel the way we should be. But it should also be designed with style, without crowding It with useless. Materials that would remove the idea of spacious;Special treat.

DINING ROOM

The dining room by nature is a symbol space, unlike a kitchen, or living room, which often has multiple purposes. Your dining room is solely about eating and entertaining.

Even though you might not use it that frequently, it's great to have during that big family get-together. Or your child's over the top birthday party.

By adding a large table, plenty of chairs, and a bar cart, you can easily turn it into an entertaining Mecca. With the right party decorations,
